This thesis is submitted to the English Education Program, Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, Raja Ali Haji Maritime University, as one of the requirements for obtaining a Bachelor of Education degree.

The completion of this thesis would not have been possible without the help, support, guidance, and valuable advice from various parties. Therefore, the author would like to express sincere gratitude to:

1. Prof. Dr. Agung Dhamar Syakti, S.Pi., D.E.A As Rector of Raja Ali Haji Maritime University, who has provided opportunities and facilities for author to gain knowledge and develop their academic abilities within this university.
2. Assist. Prof. Ahada Wahyusari, S.Pd., M.Pd. As Decan of the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, for the guidance, support, and wisdom that has always been given to all students, including writer
3. Assist. Prof. Dewi Murni, S.S., M.Hum. as Head of the Department of Education, Language, and Arts, who has provided motivation, academic support, and assistance in the process of compiling this scientific work.

4. Assist. Prof. Benni Satria, S.Pd., M.Pd. As Secretary of the Department of Education ,Language and Arts, for all administrative assistance and support in academic activities that contributed to the smooth running of this writer.
5. Assist. Prof. Hanifah, S.Pd.I., M.Pd. As the first supervisor, who patiently and attentively provided input, guidance, and constructive criticism throughout the supervision process. The writer feels very fortunate and honored to have been able to study directly under his guidance.
6. Assist. Prof. Rahma Nuzulia, S.Pd., M.Li. as the second supervisor, who has sincerely devoted his time, energy, and thoughts to providing advice, motivation, and guidance that are very meaningful to the writer.
7. All lecturers of the English Education Study Program at Raja Ali Haji Maritime University, who have equipped author with knowledge, insight, and academic values that form the basis for the preparation of this work. author are proud and grateful for the opportunity to be guided by highly dedicated educators. May Allah SWT always bestow health, ease, and blessings upon them all.
8. All administrative staff of the Faculty of Teacher Training and Education, who have assisted and provided friendly and prompt service in various academic and administrative matters.
9. Most especially, the author would like to express her deepest gratitude to her beloved parents, her father (Safi'i), and her mother (Julia), for their endless prayers, love, sacrifices, and support throughout her journey until she was able to complete her education and this thesis. To father (Safi'i), thank you for always supporting every step and dream of the author without the slightest doubt and for always believing in her abilities. To mother(Julia), thank you for the doubts that once existed at the beginning of the writer small step toward pursuing higher education, as those doubts inspired a promise within herself to prove that she was worthy of learning, striving, and reaching this point. Thank you for being a source of strength and a reason for the author to keep moving forward. May Allah SWT always grant father and mother good health, happiness, and a long life.

10. The author would also like to express her sincere gratitude to her beloved grandmother (Rajemah), who has always supported every choice and step taken by her granddaughter, even though she had to endure the longing caused by the author decision to live far away from home in pursuit of her education. Thank you for the endless prayers, love, and sincerity that have accompanied the author throughout her journey to this point.

11. The author would also like to express her sincere gratitude to Dandi Fitra and Anton Azwan, her cousins whom she considers as her own older brothers. Thank you for all the support, both financially and emotionally, as well as for the laughter and joy you brought throughout the author educational journey. Although they never had the opportunity to pursue higher education themselves, they never stopped supporting and encouraging the author to keep moving forward and complete her education. Thank you for being part of this journey and for giving the author the strength to persevere until reaching this point.

12. The author would also like to express her gratitude to her beloved younger brother, Perdi Irawan, who always asked when the author would come home and was always the most excited to hear about her return. Those simple questions about coming home served as a heartfelt reminder that there was always someone waiting for the author at home. Thank you for the sincere longing and simple happiness that always gave the author a reason to come home.
13. The author would also like to express sincere gratitude to Tia Ermika, whom the author considers a sister, for her constant support, care, prayers, and encouragement throughout the academic program and the process of writing this thesis. Her presence has been particularly meaningful in the author's academic journey, enabling the successful completion of this thesis.
14. The author would also like to express their deepest gratitude to Tasya Alkhaira, Rike Meyla Eka Saputri, and Elina Bayusri for their support, encouragement, assistance, and camaraderie throughout the process of writing this thesis.
15. Finally, the author would like to express her deepest gratitude to herself for fighting and holding on this far. Thank you for silently carrying so much pain, sadness, and anger, and for continuing to move forward even when it was difficult to express what she truly felt. Through the journey of completing this thesis, the author finally realized that the most meaningful support can also come from within, through the courage to believe in herself, to persevere, and to appreciate every small achievement. Thank you for not giving up and for learning to become the safest place for herself to return to.

The author hopes that this thesis will be useful to readers and contribute to the advancement of educational science. The writer acknowledges that this thesis still has shortcomings, and therefore welcomes constructive criticism and suggestions.
