This research focuses on Speech Acts. The goal of this research is to analyze types of speech act found in the video podcast. This research was conducted using descriptive qualitative research. The data for this research was taken from the video podcast entitled “5 Smart Ways to Improve Your English Speaking Skills.” By English Speaking Success. In analyzing the data, the researcher used Searle’s theory of types of speech act. The researcher limited the research on analyzed types of speech act which were found in the video podcast. The instrument for this researcher is the researcher herself. The researcher conducted three steps to gather the data. Firstly, the researcher listened and watched the podcast. YouTube was used to listen and watch the podcast. Secondly, the researcher listened to the podcast repeatedly and observed it. Thirdly, the researcher classified the words based on types of speech act, wrote down the data, arranged the data into several parts based on classification and gave comments why the words, utterances and sentences are included in the types of the speech act. Based on the data, the researcher found 22 utterances of speech act in the video podcast. From the 22 utterances, then the researcher classified the utterances into types of speech acts. There are two types of speech acts found, which are; Locutionary (4 utterances), and Illocutionary (18 utterances). Then the illocutionary acts were classified again into 3 types. Assertive (11 utterances), Directives (5 utterances), and Commissive (2 utterances).
